SUNDAY CONCERT PLAN IS ADOPTED

Drug Stores Will Be Asked to Close From 10 A. M. to Noon

The Morgan County Pastor's Union met at the Y. M. C. A. Monday morning at 10:30. Dr. George S. Harris presided and Rev. Kerr, of the Associate Reform Presbyterian church led the devotional. A new minister, Rev. M. M. Caldwell, of the Church of God, was recognized and introduced his evangelist, Rev. Chas. C. L. Kearns of Oklahoma City. Capt. C. L. Kearns of the Salvation Army who has recently returned to the city was given a welcome as was Rev. Manly of the West Side Presbyterian. The conference endorsed a movement presented by B. B. Pickens, chairman of the Music Committee of the Ham-Ramsay Revival, to have Sunday afternoon sacred concerts or community sings at the Princess Theater. On motion of Dr. Jas. A. Duncan a committee was appointed to suggest to the drug stores that they close from 10 to 12 a. m. on Sundays. The body endorsed Rev. L. F. Goodwin's request that they approve a North East Drive in the near future. Rev. A. L. Mathison announced that Dr. Jas. A. Duncan would lecture at the Ninth street Methodist church Friday evening on "Why We Laugh." Dr. Jas. D. Wallace, chairman of the program committee, announced that two weeks hence Rev. L. F. Goodwin would address the body on "The Qualifications of the Ministry."

Summary Report of the Ham-Ramsay Meeting.
The pastors who made reports of members received since the meeting began expressed the view that "the good and influence of the meeting cannot be measured in numbers." Among the expressions were "the good accomplished among the church members has been incalculable," "one man received is worth the whole meeting," "we would not have gotten any of the baptism had it not been for the meeting," "the meeting has been a great help to my church besides the number received there were many consecrations to a new life," in several cases whole families were reported to have joined a church either for baptism or by letter or certificate. One pastor reported that among the members received were number of mature people that would not have been reached by the regular and ordinary work of the church.

In his closing remarks the presiding officer said, "We cannot measure the good of this meeting in numbers. We have passed the crisis in the religious situation in the city. The large number of new people who have been moving into our community are now being assimilated. They are coming into our churches. 200 have come into our church this year and they are still coming. And they will continue to come. We pastors must keep our churches warm and we must make our fires warm. We must get the stiffness out of them. We must preach the things the people need to know. The greatest service of the year will be to keep our churches warmed up and make these new members feel at home."

The following pastors reported members received.
Rev. W. P. Reeves, Central Baptist 18; Letter 35, Total 53.
Rev. L. F. Goodwin, Westminster Presbyterian, Baptism 8, Letter 27, Total 35.
Rev. C. C. Davidson, First Baptist, Decatur, Baptism 24, Letter 5, Total 29.
Rev. George S. Harris, Central Methodist Baptist 13, Letter 12, Total 25.
Rev. E. I. Olive, Southside Baptist Baptist 9, Letter 8, Total 17.
Rev. A. L. Mathison, Ninth Street Methodist Baptist 5, Letter 10, Total 15.
Rev. A. N. Penland, Willowhatch Presbyterian Baptist 0, Letter 5, Total 5.
Rev. N. Edwards, First Christian Church, Baptism 2, Letter 3, Total 5.
Rev. S. B. Monroe, First Baptist, Albany, Baptism 2, Letter 2, Total 4.

The total number received to date is 188 but many more are expected to come as many cards signed have not been worked up as yet and many people who did not sign cards are coming into the churches. The total number of cards signed at the inquiry room as reported by Mrs. D. D. Gibson, secretary, was 270 of these 123 came accepting Christ as their personal Saviour, 70 dedicating their lives, 54 bringing church letter, and 17 or more did not indicate. Of these cards 95 preferred the Methodist church, 119 the Baptists, 15 the Presbyterian, 12 the Christian and 4 the Church of God and one the Progressive Primitive Baptists. The churches receiving cards signed were the Central Baptist 55 Central Methodist 41, Southside Baptist 23, Ninth Street Methodist 19, First Baptist Albany 16, First Methodist 16.

BOWLES TELLS OF THE PAPER STRIKE

Newspaper production is indeed one of the essential industries according to Thomas A. Bowles, cashier of the Central National Bank, who was in New York during the newspaper famine caused by the web pressmen's strike of some time ago.
"The Decatur Daily appears as a big paper," said Mr. Bowles, "compared to the sheet gotten out by twelve of the largest dailies in New York during the height of the strike, which happened to be while Mrs. Bowles and I were in the city. There were papers in French, Italian, German English and every kind of a language, but the names of the twelve papers made up the biggest part of the paper. Only the barest item appeared as news. The theatres did manage to get in just one advertisement a day saying the regular programs would be presented, afternoon and night. The big department stores got a few lines in saying that hand bills would be distributed at the doors of the stores to prospective customers.
"The department stores had to advertise in only a very modest way, and customers who wanted to do a little shopping, especially bargain hunters, had a mighty hard time. Limited reports were made on the activities of the stock exchange, etc.
"I noticed several editorials. One in particular said that the South was reveling in 30 cent cotton and that the high price of cotton was the one bright spot. Some of the editors wrote as if interest rates would rise, and general bad times come unless the republicans were returned to power. I supposed that was part of the preparation for the republican national campaign."

The people here might be interested to know that New England cotton spinners are anxious to get their mills moved to better labor conditions. I talked with Joe Werthan, of Nashville, who now employs about 400 girls in a big bag and sheeting mill at Nashville. He stated he knew of three New England cotton mills that could be bought cheap and brought South. He stated that he was negotiating for one of them and thought of running it in connection with his bag mill at Nashville.
Mrs. W. E. Todd, who was in New York at the time, sent the Daily a copy of one of the composite papers and it has attracted much attention since being placed on exhibition in this office.

MANAGING BOARD ENJOYS BANQUET

Plans Are in Hands of Construction Dept. of the Railroad

Definite plans have been adopted by the board of management of the local Y. M. C. A. for the new auditorium and gymnasium to be erected at the east end of what is known as the "kitchen" wing of the original building. The floor of the new building will be on a level with the main floors of the Association building, and when the new structure is complete it will be an integral part of the main building. C. J. Randolph, executive secretary of the association, stated Tuesday morning.

It is the original idea to have the new building's first floor near the ground, rather than have it elevated several feet below the main floors of the Association building, and when the new structure is complete it will be an integral part of the main building. C. J. Randolph, executive secretary of the association, stated Tuesday morning.

A meeting of the board of management of the association closed at a late hour Monday night at which a thorough discussion of the work of the Association was entered into. It was decided to send an inquiry as to four men and two boys to the International Convention of the Y. M. C. A. of North America, which convenes in St. Louis, November 15, for a four day session, as delegates from the local Association. The local association will not enter the continent wide membership campaign some time in December.

The board enjoyed a dinner in the dining room of the Association prior to the business meeting, the following being present: E. R. Wolfe, chairman of the board, C. W. Matthews, A. H. Hoff, Thomas Houston, L. W. Lee, W. H. Rahm, H. S. Roberts, J. O. Richardson, Rev. Noble R. Edwards and C. J. Randolph, executive secretary.

STORY OF NEGRO IS BROKEN BY LAWYER

(Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Rose Del Miller, negro of Chicago, witness for the plaintiff today in the divorce suit of W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy hotel owner, against Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes today admitted under cross examination by Samuel Untermyer, Mrs. Stokes' chief counsel, that she had committed deliberate perjury in answering questions about her past.

The woman swore that she saw Mrs. Stokes in the New York apartment of Edgar E. Wallace, co-respondent in the first Stokes trial, a half dozen times between June, 1917 and January, 1918, when she brought food to them.

When questioned by Mr. Untermyer, the woman who had declared she had been married several times, was unable to give definitely the dates of the marriages. At first she said she had married a man named Murphy in the city hall at New York, but later on she retracted the statement the defense.

FIFTH TRIAL OF NEGRO STARTED

(Associated Press.)
GREENVILLE, Ala., Oct. 9.—The trial of Jake Crenshaw, negro, was expected to proceed rapidly today as the jury yesterday visited the scene of the killing of Mrs. Foster Gafford, for whose killing the defendant is charged, and secure first-hand information as to the physical surrounding and topography.

Mrs. Gafford was slain in May, 1920. Crenshaw has been tried four times, the supreme court reversed the verdict of guilty in the first two trials and mistrials resulting twice, juries failing to agree. The case has attracted more than local interest.

On a quiet Sunday afternoon, the countryside was shocked by the discovery of Mrs. Gafford's mutilated body. The state has made every effort to convict Crenshaw, who was arrested and charged with the killing soon after discovery of the body. Crenshaw has been ably defended and the community has been said to have been divided in sentiment from the very beginning as to his guilt. His attorneys are C. B. Beddow, Roderick Beddow and Ben F. Ray, of Birmingham. Application for a charge of venue, made at opening of the trial yesterday by the defense, was promptly overruled by Judge Campbell.

Selection of the jury required several hours. The jury is composed of eleven farmers and one merchant.

FUTURE YET IS PROMISING

Need Be No Apprehension Regarding Nation, President Coolidge Believes

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Although not desiring to pose as a prophet, President Coolidge regards the business future of the country as promising and looks for a continuation of present conditions, which he believes on the whole, are good.

The President has received through members of his cabinet, leaders in industry and agriculture and representatives of labor, information which has enabled him to make a survey of the country. From these reports the future may be indicated to a certain extent in the President's opinion, and his belief is that there need be no apprehension as to the continuance of present conditions.

Difficulties have been met in some sections, notably in the oil fields of Oklahoma, which Mr. Coolidge has been informed, are feeling the effects of production in California fields and in the spring wheat belt of the central northwest. The President, however, is confident that these difficulties will be alleviated within the next few months.

Lawrence County Man Gives All to the Schools of His Little Community

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith of Lawrence County, and well known by many of the older residents of this section of the state have immortalized their names by the use of some of their substance in erecting a handsome school building known as the "C. C. Smith School" and in addition Mr. and Mrs. Smith have provided that following their deaths a tract of 776 acres of land near the school is to be the property of the school in fee simple.

The following account of the action of Mr. and Mrs. Smith appears in the School Journal, just from the press. "Far from the madding crowd's ignominious strife."

Their sober wishes never learned to stray.
Along the cool sequestered vale of life
They kept the even tenor of their way."

And, because Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith have kept the even tenor of their way through all these more than three score years and are able to make a unique gift to the County of Lawrence in the State of Alabama, or perhaps more correctly said, to their community in Lawrence County, they have given to the County of Lawrence all the worldly possessions of any of its citizens and that gift in the form of a school building and farm.

For several years C. C. Smith and his wife have been wondering how they might render greatest service to the little school district in which their lives have been spent, and how provision for that service could be legally made before the death of either of them; their plans were carefully thought out and submitted to the county superintendent of education for suggestions; and in July of 1922, when the day appointed Mr. Smith met his neighbors by the wooded roadside near the south central side of his farm and disclosed his purpose; stating it in a few simple words. Briefly, it was to give at once to the state a deed conveying five acres of choice land for a school site and $3,000 towards the erection of a building to be begun as soon as possible; to deed to the state all of his property consisting of 776 acres of land on which is located his own home and several good tenant houses, which, on the death of both of the donors, will become an endowment for the school, the state can then sell the land and pay six per cent on the proceeds of the sales, or use the rentals for maintenance of the school. The proposal came as a surprise to the neighbors who knew well of the liberality of the two, but could hardly think of all being given for them.

Since the little gathering by the roadside several visits have been made by a representative from the state department of education at Montgomery to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith; deeds have been properly made for the erection of a school building with state aid and the house built; and other deed conveying, on the death of the givers, all the property to the state for the benefit of the school as contemplated. In arranging for this transaction it became convenient for Mr. Smith to make a trip to Birmingham at the time of the State teachers' meeting in the spring of 1923 to meet the State Superintendent of Education and other representatives from the department to arrange details of the transaction. This was a meeting that meant much in the life of the noble donor of his all to the State of Alabama; and as he sat with the high officials in his state an observer could but reflect that dignity and grandeur of character is not alone in high places.

The gift came as a fitting climax in a beautiful and simple life spent in one of the most rural portions of a strictly rural county. The district lies along the lines of Lawrence and Franklin counties and is called a county line district; it is about six miles north of the little town of Mount Hope in the western part of the county and twice as far from Leighton, the nearest railroad point. For forty-five years the couple have struggled together and have seen the first few acres they called home attain the present generous proportions, for thirty-four of those years they have kept a store which has been a trading center for those with produce and sell in that community. No honest man has come to ask for credit or to borrow but that he go his desire with a word of encouragement and good cheer thrown in "to boot." At the store, the neighbor found anything from the cloth that made the first covering for the newborn babe to the shroud and casket that wrapped and held the form of the aged.

No children came to bless the home of the couple but the boys and girls around will live to bless them for the school opportunities that would never have been possible except for these gentle humanitarians. Two utterances of Mr. Smith might well be placed in the school books along with those of Patrick Henry, Nathan Hale, or other early American patriots. One:
"For thirty-four years we have sold goods at this place and the neighbors have made what we have; it is right that we give it back to them."

The other:
"We really have never made any money but we have saved a little." Landlords might well bear in mind another statement too, when they are called upon to repair and improve the houses of their tenants, that:
"My renters are my neighbors."

On the 20th of July, 1923, the dedication exercises of the building were held and thither came the State Superintendent of Rural Schools to represent the State, the president of one of the State Normal Colleges, a congressman who had been the playmate of Mr. Smith in the little log house of a generation almost gone, the representative of one of the largest city dailies in the state almost all of the county officials and a host of friends to see the dedication of the C. C. Smith school. It was a great day to the community and means the beginning of better things there for the children at least, though the Sunday school already begun has made the house a gathering place for men and women, as well as boys and girls.

There is a noble simplicity about the good old couple that impresses friend and stranger alike; their lives have been among the little affairs of a remote rural district but their thoughts and aims have been above the mean and grovelling; the simple things about the home bear the stamp of noble aim; not sticks but logs are burning in the huge open fire places of the home; broad coverings of concrete are placed above and around the wells at the kitchen door; and at the end of

FLYING SQUADRON OF CHURCH TO VISIT

Episcopal Leaders to Deliver Speeches
At St. John's

OTHER CHURCHES WILL BE VISITED

Bishop McDowell Will Call on People of Every District

What is termed the "Flying Squadron" by Episcopal church authorities is now making visits to practically all the parishes and missions in the diocese of Alabama. It was announced by Rev. T. G. Mundy, rector of St. John's Episcopal church on Gordon Drive this morning.

Dr. Mundy said that the squadron would visit Decatur Episcopalians in the interest of the nation wide campaign now on, for the purpose of increasing the activities and accomplishments of the church in America. The members of the squadron who are to visit Decatur will also visit the Episcopal mission at Athens, where they will hold two sessions.

The members of the squadron to appear in Northern Alabama are Bishop Co-adjutor McDowell, Rev. Middleton S. Barnwell and Mrs. Pope, of Birmingham.

Both Bishop McDowell and Rev. Barnwell are well known here having addressed local people a number of times in the past. Bishop McDowell will be the first of the flying squadron to speak here, stated Mr. Mundy who spoke as follows of the program of the members of the squadron:

"The men of St. John's church will be entertained at a supper Tuesday night in the parish home in which time Bishop McDowell will address the interest of the nation wide campaign. Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. Mrs. Pope, of Birmingham, will talk to the ladies of the parish in the church. Mrs. Pope comes in the interest of the Woman's Auxiliary."

The Rev. Middleton S. Barnwell, rector of the church of the Advent Birmingham, will arrive Wednesday morning, and, together with Bishop McDowell, will address a meeting of the whole parish Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend this gathering.

"It will be in the nature of an inspirational meeting. A layman will also be a member of the squadron and will make several talks.
Thursday morning the squadron will leave by auto for Athens and will hold two meetings there in the afternoon and night. Friday they will go to Florence.

"It is the purpose of Bishop McDowell to cover practically every parish and mission in the diocese, holding similar meetings."

COMMITTEE WILL DISCUSS NEW FIELD

The joint committee of the chamber of commerce and of the Morgan Kiwanis club named several days ago is expected to meet at the chamber of commerce rooms this evening at 7:15 o'clock when in a very definite way it is expected plans will be discussed looking to the acquirement of an athletic field and additional ground upon which may be held a county fair.

The members of the committee are D. G. Perkins, W. W. Rahm, W. W. Fussell, B. C. Shelton and D. D. Burselon.

These men are said to be thoroughly alive to the need of an athletic field and fair ground. They feel that the time is ripe for a good athletic field here, but that never was the time more auspicious for a practical move in the direction of actually getting the field, and preparing it for use at once so that the football players of the high school can have the advantage of it.

It is pointed out by members of the committee that never in the future can the desired ground be secured on any more favorable terms and that to wait longer for a decision as to the important project, could not be considered wise action from any standpoint.

A full meeting of the committee is expected. Its members hope for the cooperation of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce which body, it is understood, meets at the chamber of commerce building this evening in its regular weekly session.

Concert by Band Thursday Evening

The local concert band will appear in an open air concert Thursday evening on the lawn of the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. The band will be under the personal direction of H. B. Marston, director. The public was extended a cordial invitation to attend.

The diplomacy of force kicks its user to death.

REVOLUTIONARY TENDENCIES IN GERMANY

It is safe to say that affairs in Germany are going from bad to worse, although reports are not such as to make it plain just what is going on.

One thing stands out prominently, namely, that instead of the Germans having a democracy they have a plutocracy. The industrial leaders like Stinnes have turned out to be profiteers instead of saviors of their country. A small class has grown enormously rich in Germany at the expense of the country in general.

Because the industrial situation is so bad, politicians are seeking to teach the people that democracy brought them all their ills, and that a monarchy should be re-established. The revolutionary movements in Germany indicate that the people realize they have been duped by their industrial leaders, and because the republican government is unable to furnish relief, many propose to destroy the present government.

It remains to be seen as to whether or not the German people are able to become their own physicians and save themselves. In view of the fact they have had so little experience in self government, it is quite possible the present democracy in Germany will be replaced by an absolute monarchy.

VIRTUE IN SPANKING

A woman who was annoyed by the fondness of her husband for a young lady sought out the pair and using the husband's service belt which has done service in the World war, proceeded to give both of them a thorough drubbing. Asked if she intended to get a divorce she said, "of course not."

It may be that the outraged wife chose the best way of settling her difficulty. Divorce, a remedy frequently employed and extremely popular in various parts of the earth does not seem to be the panacea for domestic trouble which its devotees hope for.

It is at times precisely what the party divorced is seeking and it leaves family relations in a desperate snarl as a rule. To substitute spanking for it is a novel plan and one which may become popular with the athletic wives of the day. The husband treated to discipline of his corporal self is apt to be a meek and obedient playmate in the future.

The glamour of sowing wild oats fades quickly with the prospect of a watchful and irate spouse exempt from that condemnation which is so freely ready to apply the lash. The process, too, is ex-vented when the whipping is done to convicts or to victims of flappers.

That it would be effective there can be no doubt. One touch of that public shame in which the husband has been treated as an erring and mischievous little boy must be sufficient deterrent for the great majority of mankind. The scandal is less than that of long drawn out litigation and there is no permanent breach.

Many have advocated the abandonment of the whipping post as a relic of barbarism but are there not many relics of the past which might well be revived and utilized with profit? For some offenses there is much virtue in a spanking. It is not always necessary to cut off an offender's head to reprove him for his offending. A whipping may set him right and he may go and sin no more.

Evidently the wife who administered the spanking believed herself capable of managing her domestic affairs in the future without the aid of the courts. Might the courts not be relieved of some of their congestion if the same rugged common sense were applied to the majority of our problems of which we over rate the magnitude?—Selma Times-Journal.

THE GOVERNMENT'S PRESENT POSITION AS TO THE SHOALS AND FORD'S OFFER

According to a memorandum furnished by C. B. Slem, secretary to President Coolidge, on the Muscle Shoals situation the government makes it about as plain as language can do so that the Gorgas plant affair is a closed incident so far as Mr. Coolidge and his associates are concerned. In other words, Mr. Slem says the President stands pat on the sale of the Gorgas plant and has no regrets in the matter.

Mr. Slem ends his communication, which was addressed to some Sheffield people and appeared in the Tri-Cities Daily with the remark: "The chance to buy the Muscle Shoals water power is still open to Mr. Ford." The entire memorandum is as follows:

"The government project at Muscle Shoals, on the Tennessee river consisting of several parts, among them being the steam plant and nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals, the water power development at that place, and the Gorgas steam plant, located 90 miles from Muscle Shoals on the Black Warrior river, and built on land belonging to the Alabama Power Company. All of these properties were included in the original offer made by Mr. Ford.

"The agreement with the Alabama Power Company in regard to the Gorgas plant obligated the government to vacate the land on notice from the Power Company. The Power Company has given this notice and has insisted upon it after granting several extensions of time. Under the situation in which the government found itself, it had to make a choice of one or the other of two alternatives. One was to vacate the ground, removing the steam plant and obtaining what it could for it as salvage. This would have amounted to less than $1,000,000. The other alternative was to sell it to the Power Company for about $3,500,000, which amount was offered by the company and which was the highest bidder the government could obtain for the plant from this or any other source.

"As the company was unwilling to grant further extension, the President and Secretary of War sent for Mr. Ford and explained the situation, in order to keep good faith and co-operate with him. It was stated to Mr. Ford that this amount would be credited to his original offer of $5,000,000 for both the Muscle Shoals water power and the Gorgas plant. There appears to be no reason why Mr. Ford should not be even more anxious to obtain the vast water power at Muscle Shoals under the present conditions, than he had been to secure both the water power and Gorgas plant. The latter is necessarily short-lived and subject to costly depreciation, while the Muscle Shoals project is a permanent water power which, under the terms of his offer, he would secure for a period of one hundred years. The government could not save the Gorgas plant for Mr. Ford. It did what it could to get the most money for the United States treasury. The chance to buy the Muscle Shoals water power is still open to Mr. Ford.

You can't accuse a man of using fowl language when he calls a girl a chicken.

The man who is always beefing generally needs a good roasting.

Freedom from debt is a kind some folks rarely ever know.

Many a lame duck is able to waddle in the direction of a government job with a fat salary.

It takes a woman to pretend she is having a good time when she is not.

The motor toll last week-end amounted to forty-six. "If one-tenth this number were killed in football in one week," adds the editor, "there would be a nation-wide agitation against such cruel sport. The difference seems to be that the general public does not play football, while most everybody has a chance to go riding once in a while.

It would be a sad day for the children of the present should they lose control of their parents.

Money is called "dough" because one rises with it.

"I'm all set," said the sun, as it disappeared over the horizon.

"The only time I ever showed any wisdom was the time I was so scared I couldn't talk."

For the literary society to decide: "Why is it that a boy can't lift 20 pounds of parsnips but can carry a 50-pound watermelon with ease?"

If he sits and dreams and whistles, he is a loafer. If he omits the whistling he is a foreman.

RESULTS TELL

There can be no doubt about the results in Albany.

Results tell the tale.

And doubt is removed.

The testimony of an Albany citizen can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had?

J. T. Ninger, 1725 Sixth Avenue, S. E., Albany, says: "I had a lot of trouble with pains which kept me from my back when I got in a bent position. I had a heavy, dull ache across the small of my back, which knawed right into me. My kidneys acted too freely and I had to get up during the night to pass the secretions. It didn't take much work to tire me out. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was rid of the trouble. Doan's cured me and I have had no trouble since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ninger had. Foster-McIlburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

OPERA IN BUENOS AIRES LACKS PUBLIC SUPPORT

This city possesses one of the finest opera houses in the world, the Cole. Of recent years the attendance has decreased steadily until today the management is confronted with serious financial difficulties.

Various arguments have been advanced to account for this condition—the local business depression and charge in the public taste since the war—but the most popular answer is that the United States is making opera too expensive for the past of it. America attracts the best artists with high salaries, and even in summer time it is alleged, famous singers make much money from concert tours and working for phonograph companies. Hence they have no inclination to come to South America.

The Soapstone Electric Iron

Saves money—irons with the current turned off

SOAPSTONE—the same soapstone that our grandmothers used to warm their beds—is the secret of the Stahot Electric Iron.

Because the heating wires are embedded in a block of soapstone which stores up heat as a reservoir stores up water, you can disconnect the Stahot Iron after it becomes hot and iron with the cord detached.

For heavy work and very wet clothes leave the current on. The soapstone will keep an even temperature at the face of the iron. The Stahot Iron will not scorch. You will not have to stop work waiting for it to heat up on even the heaviest work.

It has other advantages too—a cutaway nose which makes it easy to iron cuffs, an attached heel rest, perfect balance, a good looking blue handle and a heavily nicked body

Hair You Envy

I Offer you what brought it

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is the envy of thousands who see it on the stage and elsewhere. It is heavy, silky, lustrous—far finer than 40 years ago. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Yet my age is 62.

I owe this to a formula which French experts made for me. I have supplied it to many friends. It has brought to them what it brought to me—luxuriant heads of hair. Now, by countless requests, I am placing this formula within every woman's reach. Men are also welcome to it.

Use An Eye Dropper.

I call this formula my Hair Youth. One applies it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. Apply just enough to dampen the scalp. This takes but a minute and it does not muss the hair.

It attacks the hardened oil and dandruff, which stifle the hair roots. It cleans the scalp, stimulates and fertilizes. Then hair flourishes as flowers thrive in a well-kept garden.

Hair troubles come from stifled hair roots. Gray hair comes from lack of pigment. The way to prevent these troubles, to make hair thrive, is to cultivate the scalp. The best ways science knows to do that are embodied in Hair Youth.

Worth A Fortune.

My Hair Youth has been worth a fortune to me. My hair is now, and always has been, my chief glory. I have so many friends who obtained like results, that I count this formula a boon which all should have. So I have placed it at every woman's call.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Hair Youth is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters. Price, 50c and $1 with eye dropper. They also supply my Youth Cream. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my White Youth Clay—the last word in facial clay. My Beauty Book comes with each.

See what my Hair Youth does for your hair. You will be delighted. Then I think you will want the other helps which did so much for me. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukegan, Wis.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

Delightful Elixir, Called Aspirinol, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies That Are Endorsed by Medical Authorities to Cut Short a Cold or Cough Due to Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if You Don't Feel Relief Coming in Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinol, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do to get relief from that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinol and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirinol is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night. —Adv.

One Killed and 3 Hurt in Machine

(Associated Press)
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 9.—Victor Luster was instantly killed and three companions, one man and two young women were painfully but not seriously injured this morning when a car in which they were riding left Boyd's bridge, near the Holston river, five miles east of here.

Luster's skull was crushed. With Luster were Charles Frost, driver of the car, Ruth Strange and Dorothy Wilson. The party had been several miles east of Knoxville and was enroute home when the accident occurred. Miss Wilson said that Frost was driving the car at approximately 50 miles when it left the pike.

The pastors co-operating expressed themselves as highly pleased at the work of the Ham-Ramsay party and with the results. Mr. Ham's work is of a permanent kind and the results will tell in the local churches and in the lives of individuals for years to come in the opinion expressed. The total offering received during the meeting was $5,562.00 of this $2,562.00 was contributed to the evangelist on the last day.

Lawrence County Man Gives All to Schools

the concrete walk that leads across the yard. The meals prepared on the great range in the kitchen are beautiful and wholesome with generous slices of ham and tempting cakes of sausage, huge glasses of milk and overflowing cups of coffee.

The two story structure used these many years as a store house is largely enough for a city merchant and was kept full and well supplied when the owner was able to look after the details of management; and the great barn, down below the home on well drained land, has loft and bin and stalls that would delight the heart of any thrifty tiller of the soil.

This gift to the community is not the only blessing bestowed upon the children of Alabama by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith; only a few years ago they divided equally $7,000 between two denominational orphanages in the state; and now, along with the farm as an endowment for the school, they will leave five to eight thousand dollars in trust with the state which will pay six per cent interest to the school. This with the land will enable the school to run eight or nine months in a county that ordinarily can give but five months of school per year from public funds.

THIRD GRAND PRIZE—Purchased of and on display at Morgan County Motor Company

Next Saturday night, the 13th, the extra vote, the largest in the great campaign decreases in value. This coming week-end it will be the extra vote schedule that will decrease. After this week-end, there will be a decrease in vote value of subscriptions every other week-end until the main contest closes. Something closing every week. One week the main schedule, and alternating weeks the extra votes decrease. If you didn't do as well as you expected last week, then this is the week you should recuperate your losses, before the extra vote schedule decreases in value. If you emerged from the battle last week well toward the top, then you should work hard this week to hold your position. You will win or lose on the 17th of November in exactly the same proportion that you produce votes and subscriptions get the most votes. Do not let over-confidence ruin your chances for success. Remember everyone has a chance until the last minute of the last hour on the 17th of November. Do not allow yourself to stand still and be beaten. Forge onward and upward. The prizes are well worth the effort—and when the campaign is over and you ride away in the machine that you have won during your spare hours for these weeks of interesting campaigning, you will be mightily pleased that you took part in the campaign. But now is your opportunity—not after the opportunity has gone—not after the contest is over. Starting this morning, there are six full weeks left to win the 15 prizes in The Decatur Daily great contest. Anyone could accomplish a great deal during these six weeks, if one had the determination to win. In fact anyone could enter the contest right now, or any time this coming week, and by diligent work and concentrated effort win any one of the three Automobiles, or any other prize on the great list. These prizes are all awarded on the number of votes each have secured during the campaign.
